While I understand the difference between meters and kiosks and parking in the lots vs. parking on the street, I think we should remove the sticker and replace it with language that refers to kiosks instead of meters and maybe even remove the reference to downtown.

Thanks,
Steve

Subject: Parking Kiosk Update

Good Afternoon,

Jim has asked me to send out the following update on downtown parking.

This morning, our crew from Public Works was able to get all of the kiosks installed, and a representative from the kiosk company is here to assist us in programming them.

A decision was made to begin the sale of hourly permits through the kiosks on Monday morning, December 3, rather than on Saturday morning, December 1. Both staff and the representative from the company agreed that technical staff should be available on the first day of the program to address any unexpected glitches that may be encountered upon rollout.

This morning, when the kiosks were installed, a sticker on the front on top of the directions for use read “Instructions to Pay Meter”, as opposed to using the word “kiosk”. Since the kiosks had already been introduced to the public with that verbage, those stickers are remaining on the machine at this time.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any additional questions.

Best,
